

It is a disgrace to compare the Bono & Janet Jackson debacle to a movie about what our veterans went through and are now going through during war. Are we to assume that television shows such as "South Park" & soap operas with their sexual content are more appropriate for the viewing public?

In my opinion, "Saving Private Ryan" is more educational and informative than what you "allow" to air on television without censure! How many veterans are involved with the FCC?